Dear Mr. Gilliland:

Congratulations to you and The Andrews Institute for being selected as one of the Outstanding Business Partners for the Escambia County School District and for being a recipient of the Commissioner's Business Recognition Award.

The dedication and commitment exhibited by The Andrews Institute in providing resources and services to the Escambia School District makes you most deserving of this recognition. We are appreciative of your willingness to assist us in providing quality education to the students throughout the district.

On April 22nd the Annual School District Luncheon recognizing outstanding volunteers and outstanding teachers will be held at New World Landing at 11:30 a.m. This luncheon is attended by teachers, school administrators, district administrative staff, volunteers from schools, community and civic organizations, business partners and military personnel. At this luncheon business partners are also recognized and thanked for their contributions. An invitation will be sent to you and Al Stubblefield in early April.

We are very fortunate to have the support and participation of The Andrews Institute and other businesses and organizations as we work toward our mission to make a positive difference in students' lives and prepare them for lifelong learning.

Sincerely,

Debbie King
